BUSINESS MEN ASK FOR SLIDING SCALE LICENSE

Meeting in Pine Inn Tuesday evening to discuss a new ordinance governing business licenses, the business men decided to ask the council to adopt the sliding scale which is used in many of the cities in this state.

They decided to recommend that the taxes should be collected on a sliding scale of gross receipts, thus all those doing a business up to $500; $8 a year, $500 to $1,000, $12; $1,000 to $2,000, $18; $2,000 to $5,000, $25; $5,000 to $10,000, $50; over $10,000, $100.

The amounts asked however, were only tentative and were subject to the desire of the council.

A feature of the new ordinance, and one bringing the most discussion when the committee from the business men and the council met Wednesday night was that of collecting the license one year in advance each business classifying itself according to the average monthly business of the preceding year. Since a new business would not have this past year's record, it would necessarily be placed in the top bracket, which is $100 per year. At the end of the year, his deposit would be returned, less the year's license fee. Should a merchant leave before the year was out, he would lose his deposit.

Such an ordinance has long been sought by the business men.

Flat scales had been suggested by Judge Wood at a previous meeting and it is likely that where the sliding scale does not apply, the council will adopt his list.

An effort will be made to have the new ordinance passed so that it may become effective by July 1st.

NEW FLAG FLYING OVER OLD MISSION

The Old Mission! But a new flag pole and a new flag now grace the spot where once Father Serra lived and worked. Although the rain poured a great part of the day, Saturday, at the time set for the flag raising ceremony, the sun came out and shone for the ten minutes' program.

Rev. Edward McDonald was the honor of the pole, which was topped with an ornament designed by Harry Downie who is doing the restoration work on the old mission.

The following program was rendered:

Blessing on the flag, Father McDonald.

Raising of flag by soldiers from the Monterey Presidio with appropriate music by the buglers.

J.O.Y. CLUB HAVING UNUSUAL PROGRAMS

Under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Nixon, the J.O.Y. club which meets at the Community Church each Sunday evening, has been having some unusually interesting programs.

During January an "Airplane Flight" was taken to Oraibi, Ariz., and interesting things were learned of the lives and habits of the Indians of that section. Mrs. Nellie Montagu exhibited some blankets and jewelry of this tribe and told the guests of her life there as she had lived it with her father who was sent to Oraibi as agent twenty-five years ago. The club sat around a camp fire to listen to the lore and legends. Mrs. Harry Hilbert gave a most interesting monologue.

The February airplane flight was taken to the old south where the club learned about the negro, his songs, habits and proverbs. Interesting things were told of Booker T. Washington, Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Langston Hughes. Doby Davis read two poems of Dunbar's. The Misses Helen and Harriet Pierce showed pictures of plantation life and sang some of the spirituals.

A centerpiece for the table was a darky cabin made of bread sticks and surrounded by a fence made of chocolate covered sticks of candy. A snowman of marshmallows stood in the yard. A possum hunt was engaged in when the young people searched for favors which had been hidden about the room. Twenty-six boys and girls and about ten adults were present at the February meeting.

Mrs. John Montague is visiting her mother in Shasta county.

"PATIENCE" PLEASES;
DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Although there were no outstanding voices in the opera "Patience," the crowds nevertheless were highly pleased with the four performances.

The voices were good, however, and everybody enjoyed hearing our own people sing and offered encouragement to a new and worthy organization, that of the Monterey Peninsula Opera association.

Miss Madeline Currey took the part of Patience and entirely won the hearts of her hearers, while Mrs. O. W. Bardson with the comedy role drew gales of laughter.

Arthur Gunderson, leader of the orchestra and musical director, is to be commended for his good work even as he has been many times in the past.

Money taken in above expenses at these performances will be used to defray expenses of putting on further productions.

A mention of the evening would not be complete without reference to the very excellent set, designed by Miss Anna Marie Baer.

ENTERTAINS PLAYMATES
ON TENTH BIRTHDAY

Jane, little daughter of Mrs. Ilene Glascock, entertained twelve little friends at her home Wednesday of last week, the occasion being her tenth birthday. The party will be a red letter day in the lives of both hostess and guests. The following enjoyed the afternoon:

Ellen Pear McGrury, Leona Ramsey, Jerry Shephard, Patay Ann Shephard, Elizabeth Watson, Mary Jean Keade, Laurel Bixler, Pat Armstrong, Elaine McEntire, Mingdon Sheets, Yvonne Mercurio, Frances Walter and Patty Ann Ryland.

P. G. & E. MAKES RATE REDUCTIONS

Rate reductions in two important classifications that will make possible substantial savings in the electric bills of farm and domestic consumers were announced today by M. P. Downing, vice-president and general manager of Pacific Gas and Electric company.

Territory which will benefit by the reductions include virtually all of northern California covering the coast region served by Pacific Gas and Electric company lines north of King City and the interior valleys north of the Merced River.

Effective with the April meter readings and continuing until the July meter readings of this year, all power used by agricultural power consumers in excess of the kilowatt hours used by them during the corresponding period of 1933 will be billed at half the regular rate.

Effective March 1 and continuing indefinitely a new low rate is established for domestic consumers who have installed both a standard electric range and an electric water heater of the automatic storage type. Upon application this special combination domestic service will be made available to single family residences and separately metered flats and apartments.

CARMEL FOLK WATCH
MOVIES BEING MADE

Carmel folk have enjoyed themselves the past week watching operations of Warner Brothers who are making "Without Honor" a part of which is filmed at Point Lobos and the Old Mission. James Cagney is the star.

Mrs. Hal Garrott is enjoying the annual visit from her sisters of Minneapolis at her home on North Camino Real.

NIGHT CLASSES BEING HELD AT SUNSET SCHOOL

Under the auspices of the Monterey Union High, night classes are being held at Sunset school and are meeting with enthusiastic response.

Mrs. Charlotte Morgan will conduct a class in drawing, her class meeting each Tuesday and Thursday nights in the art or lunch room. Those who are interested in this course will please get in touch with Mrs. Morgan at 721-J.

Clay Otto, who last week announced the opening of a class in life, cast and technical drawing, has obtained a full class. This group meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:30 in the music room.

Miss Anne Uzzel's class in physical education for women is doing splendidly.

Mrs. S. E. White announces a class in adult education for Tuesday evenings. Her group will meet in the eighth grade room. All adults interested in self improvement will please get in touch with Mrs. White.

CITY WIDENING STREET
AT END OF OCEAN AVE.

To take advantage of being able to secure clay for surfacing at a very low figure, the city is now widening Ocean avenue from San Antonio to Del Mar, employing beside the usual crew, one extra man.

The cypress trees will be trimmed to allow more parking space, while a plot extending 25 feet beyond the present site is planned to care for the cars of visitors to the beach.

This work was a part of the CWA project before the government and should the federal money be allotted, the improvements will be taken up at this point and the plan carried out fully.

WEATHER PERFECT FOR ANNUAL KITE CONTEST

Perfect weather last Saturday afternoon added to the enjoyment of the annual kite flying contest, fathered by the Rev. Willis G. White and on this occasion conducted by Rev. Dorsett.

The parade formed as planned and passed down Ocean and out Dolores by the Carmel Mission where a pause was made to honor the memory of Father Serra, and then on to Hatton Fields.

The kites this year seemed a little brighter, a little better made and more clever in design than before. It so happened that the kite was adjudged the most beautiful was also the one which flew the second highest, showing that the young designer, Allan Wood lost nothing of efficiency in his quest for beauty.

First in height of flight was Teddy Marble's kite, and second in beauty was that of Edgar Leslie.

The judges decided that Gaylord Alderson had the oddest kite, while Joyce Whitman was a close second.

Much interest was shown in the kite flight among the Filipinos when G. Gabbarra defeated Leonil Arizala.

More power to the contests! Let's look forward to a still bigger and better next year. A vote of thanks is due Rev. Mr. White for these memorable occasions.

Julian Phillips, formerly a resident of Carmel, spent the week-end here. Mr. Phillips formerly lived here and was in charge of Marian Hollis' real estate office before she moved to Pasa Tiempo.

KUSTER PRODUCING
"THEY KNEW WHAT THEY WANTED"

"They Knew What They Wanted," the Pulitzer Prize comedy of California ranch life which brought additional fame to the names of Richard Bennett and Pauline Lord in the New York production some years ago, will hold the boards of Carmel Community Playhouse next weekend. Edward Kuster, who brought this delightful play to Carmel in 1927, will again play the jovial old "Tony Patucci," with Althea Kendall and Evert Sholund playing "Amy" and "Joe." A well-rounded local cast supports the three leads.

Oldtime playlovers of Carmel are interested and curious as to whether Kuster will be able to equal the fine production he made at the Theatre of the Golden Bough. With six years intensive experience to his credit since that time, he confidently declares that the new production is superior. Out of the thirty-one members of the old cast only four remain on Monterey Peninsula today, and an almost entirely new cast will greet the Playhouse audiences next week. Besides the three leading characters mentioned above, the cast includes the following, many of whom are well known to Peninsula audiences: Billie McConnell, Georgia Waple, Teresa Durante, Ellen Pearl McGrury, Frank Hefling, Guy Koepf, Ross Kiester, Pauline Meeks, William Nye, Shim Kuster, Dr. W. B. Williams, Hjalmar Detjen, Mildred Bergman, Philip Remer, Lyle Bates, Kay Knudsen. The wedding "fiesta" scene, one of the merriest episodes ever written for the American stage, will include a dozen others.

The talkie version of "They Knew What They Wanted," though almost unrecognizable at times, has at least given millions general idea of the story of the play, which the author says was "shamelessly, consciously and proudly borrowed from the legend of Tristan and Isolde." Tony Patucci, sixty-five, bronzed and jovial, is a prosperous grower of grapes in the Napa Valley. He feels the need of wife and bambino to carry on the glory of his line, so he goes down to "Freeseo" to find his bride. He sees little Amy waiting on tables in a typical spaghetti joint. Afraid to speak to her, he gets her name from the boss and returns to the ranch, where under his dictation his foreman, Joe, "dark, sloppy, beautiful and young," writes the girl a letter in Tony's name. From the resulting correspondence a marriage is arranged, and Amy arrives at the ranch, wedding-dress and all, prepared to wed, now whom do you suppose? From this point on the play is all laughter and tears, winding up with near tragedy and a final burst of uproarious comedy.

This rich comedy of California life will play only three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Seats on sale Monday at popular prices.

FIGHT THE FREE TELEPHONE TOLLS

The movement to abolish the five cent toll between Monterey and Pacific Grove is one of the most vicious proposals ever submitted to Carmel people and one the business men must defeat at all costs if they expect to remain in business.

The movement originated in Pacific Grove and Monterey and they have made another of their big, free hearted gestures of friendliness and brotherly love by offering to stand for an increase in their own monthly telephone rates in order to lessen the burden on their lovely, but weaker sister, Carmel. Monterey and Pacific Grove people, particularly the business firms there, just have to hear oftener from us Carmelites. But in the light of past performances of the towns over the hill, any co-operative offer from Monterey and Pacific Grove is open to suspicion and smells very fishy on the slightest investigation.

You can bet your last dime that Monterey and Pacific Grove will help out on the cost of free tolls to Carmel. It will mean more business for Holman's and the food and other stores over the hill and less for Carmel merchants. It will mean that these stores can solicit business by telephone and receive orders by telephone. The five cent toll is a protective tariff for every merchant of Carmel and must be maintained.

And consider the increase in the monthly telephone rate. It is possible, if enough pressure is brought to bear that the railroad commission will abolish the toll. But the telephone company has an exchange here and an expensive system of lines and is entitled to a just return on the investment. And don't be disillusioned about the strength of any little movement in getting tough with any of the great public service companies. They are quite able to take care of themselves. There is no such thing as a FREE telephone service to Monterey and Pacific Grove or any other place for that matter. The bill is going to be paid either in a five cent toll by those who get it or in a general increase in rate to ALL subscribers that it is estimated will be eight or nine dollars a month for an open telephone. And that will mean many of the smaller businesses here will be forced to take out their telephones to the still greater detriment of their business and the convenience of the bigger firms over the hill.

KILL the free toll movement.

EIGHT MONTHS OF THE NRA

Criticism of the NRA and vitriolic defense by General Johnson is the big news of the week. Now that the first flush of enthusiasm for NRA has passed and the stupendous sums spent by the government to bolster up the movement are being exhausted it is sensible to take a sober view of actual conditions.

Radio programs are filled with speeches of resounding, heart throbbing appeals with a patriotic fervor in an attempt to put new fire in the Blue Eagle. There is no denying that great and good results have come about through NRA in some localities but that is not an excuse to permit abuses and downright rackets that are working untold hardships and it is a fine time for the NRA administration to take a definite stand to preserve the good features, ADMIT the failures and eliminate them.

NRA is fostering combines in defiance of the Sherman Anti-trust law that unless stopped will eliminate the little, individual business man from the economic structure entirely. Some good has been brought about in the cities to unemployment, yet late reports on the situation show that the relief rolls have been steadily mounting since last December.

It is doubtful whether any permanent good has resulted in any small town from the NRA. Getting down to cases what has it accomplished in Carmel? There has been considerable talk about 27 men finding permanent jobs through the New Deal and various claims as to increased payrolls. Who are some of the men hired? Where are their jobs? And how much extra pay is anyone getting?

These are questions that must be faced. The war against depression will not be won by flag waving and cheering. Hunger can not be dispelled by patriotic speeches, cheery songs and slogans.

If the government will take action against some of the big manufacturing and wholesaling combines that have tripled their prices and then foster a trade at home movement it can put an end to hard times more quickly than all the other things it has so far done put together.

PROTECT CARMEL'S TREES

Every so often someone locates in Carmel and for one reason or another begins chopping down trees. Carmel has a lot of trees but we need them all and more for they are our greatest attraction. People come here solely because of our natural beauty and without the trees there would be nothing but a beach and rows of more or less commonplace residences. It is fortunate that we have officials who appreciate the fact that aside from all sentiment every tree in Carmel has a financial value to the town as a whole that cannot be replaced by anything else. New residents in Carmel must consider this fact bearing in mind that the trees are a part of Carmel and their destruction will most certainly depreciate the value of their own property.

An Invitation TO EVERY FARMER WHO OWNS A PUMP

▲ If your pumping plant is electrically driven and connected to P. G. & E. lines—stop right now and ask yourself this question: "Do I really KNOW the operating efficiency of my pump?"

Only if your plant has been tested by a qualified pump engineer during the past year or so can you answer "Yes." Scores of pumping plants in our territory have been tested, reconditioned and tested again with results as startling as those shown on the chart below. So you see, IT PAYS TO KNOW.

▲ Experts estimate that the great majority of California pumping plants are not more than 40% efficient. Your own plant may be one of these.

Don't wait until a serious break-down occurs. These break-downs are nearly always preceded by a long operating period in which the pump uses excessive power and wastes money every hour it operates. An electric pumping plant has no real competitor if it is kept in good condition. So to help our farmer-customers keep their pumps' efficiency UP and their irrigation costs DOWN, we are offering a FREE Pump Test Service.

You may apply for this service at your nearest P. G. and E. office. We urge that you act today.

PLAN MEMORIAL TO SENATOR RIGDON

A movement to establish a suitable memorial to Senator Rigdon, the father of the San Simeon-Carmel link of the Roosevelt Highway, has begun.

While a member of the California State Senate, Elmer S. Rigdon, realizing the great need of a highway along the central California coast, started the fight for such a highway, and in spite of bitter opposition, hopeless indifference and many discouragements, continued the battle.

Had it not been for that combination most of this wonderful coast area from San Simeon to Carmel would still be a trackless wilderness.

Now this marvelous highway is nearing completion. It has been pronounced by experts as one of the world's greatest engineering feats.

A site has been selected for the memorial about midway between San Luis Obispo and Carmel. A spot was selected about a half mile north of Willow Creek, where a huge boulder stands in the center of a small open space at the roadside. The highway department has already created a drinking fountain, and artistic masonry diverts a small sparkling creek. The huge boulder was apparently made to order to exhibit the bronze plaque that is being planned.

It is proposed to name the little creek "El Senator", and the park will be known as "Rigdon Memorial Park."

Monterey county has been asked to cooperate in the movement and various organizations and individuals in this and other parts of the state are invited to have a part in the establishment of this memorial. Contributions may be sent to the Rigdon Memorial Fund, at Cambria, California. Mrs. John Marquart is chairman of the memorial committee.

The committee hopes to have the memorial plaque placed and the park in readiness for dedication ceremonies at the time the big celebration is held for the opening of the Roosevelt Highway.

Jo Mora has been asked to design the plaque.

NEPHEW DIES IN CRASH

Carmel friends sympathize with Mrs. Louis N. Jones in the death of her nephew, Lieut. Ed. D. White, recently killed in Utah in an airplane accident.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Mitchan of San Francisco spent the holidays in White Caps on Scenic Drive with a party of friends.

Mrs. Charlotte Morgan has returned from a visit to San Francisco and her brother's home in Sonoma county, after a five weeks' absence.

INSTRUCTIONS ON CATHOLIC DOCTRINES AT OLD MISSION

The names of Serra and Carmel are synonymous. His name and fame have spread over the face of the new and old world. The question may be asked what was it that inspired him to leave his native land and come to a country, the geography of which was little known. Everybody marvels at the sacrifices made, the beautiful works of art in the Mission plans, his far-sightedness in peering into the future. His ambition was not to conquer new territory for Spain, but to win Souls for God.

The secret of his success was love of God and the spread of His Kingdom on earth. His coming to California was simply corresponding with the Master's command, "Go and teach all nations." This being Serra year, perhaps people may be interested in knowing something of the great faith that was in Serra.

An opportunity will be given to everybody to know from an authoritative standpoint. Instructions will be given at the Serra-Crespi hall each Tuesday and Thursday, starting next week at 7:30. No obligations. Everybody welcome. Call at the Old Mission or ring 750.

PARENT-TEACHER DINNER WAS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The dinner given by the Parent-Teacher association last Thursday evening at Sunset was a most successful affair and was attended by close to 200 people.

Mrs. Bessie Haasis made a plea for federal aid in education and made a motion that the association both as an organization and as individuals write to their congressman and urge his help in this matter.

A talk was made by Frank Sheridan and Miss Madeline Curry and Mrs. O. W. Barderson led in the singing.

FACTS ABOUT THE TELEPHONE

The daily average of telephone calls in the Greater Boston district is about 2,000,000, but during a severe storm this past winter there was a 50 per cent increase, bringing the daily average up to more than 3,000,000.

As Bell System telephone service is practically worldwide, so too is the distribution of stockholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the parent company of the System. These stockholders are located in every state in the Union and in every important foreign country except Russia.

The total number of people living in the world on January 1, 1933, was 2,040,000,000, according to an estimate recently completed by the statistical department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The number of telephones in service in the world on the same date figures up to approximately 33,400,000. Consequently, there is an average of one telephone for every sixty-one persons in the world.

Assuming that every stockholder of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company represents a family of four persons, the "City of Tel and Tel." has a population of more than 2,700,000, or greater than that of any city in the United States except New York and Chicago.

ORCHESTRA REHEARSING FOR EASTER PROGRAM

Those who wish to become intimately acquainted with Rosini's beautiful work should take advantage of the open rehearsals at the Denny-Watrous gallery each Sunday evening from eight to ten of the Monterey Peninsula orchestra.

The members under the direction of Michel Penha are rapidly becoming efficient so that the evenings now furnish a most enjoyable hour and "Stabat Mater" will soon be ready for presentation.

Both Carmel and Pacific Grove will hear this production the week before Easter.
